The History of Gertrude Hawk Chocolates

Gertrude Hawk began making chocolates in the kitchen of her home on Mark Avenue in the Pocono Mountains region of Pennsylvania in 1936.

- Gertrude's son Elmer joined the business after World War II.
- With the back pay from his military service, he invested in chocolate making equipment.
- In 1963, Gertrude and Elmer built their first large-scale manufacturing facility and retail store.
- Seven additions were made to this facility.
- David Hawk (Elmer's son and Gertrude's grandson) now owns the business.
- David began working in the business as a young boy, gaining hands-on experience in a variety of production, retail, and management positions over the years.
- Today we utilize over 150,000 sq. ft. of modern production and distribution space to supply our customers with the products they have grown to love.
